WASHINGTON SNAPSHOTS

by JAMES PRESTON

The War Food Administration is warning farmers that manpower shortages in agriculture will continue through 1945. Brig. Gen. Philip G. Bruton, WFA labor director predicts that most of the 3,000,000 persons who left farms for city work will remain city dwellers. He expects demobilization of the 1,000,000 farmers now in the armed services to be a slow job.

Capital reports say Gen. Stilwell's disposal of lend-lease supplies was a big factor in his dispute with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek of China. Chiang is said to have complained bitterly that Stilwell turned over $227,000,000 worth of supplies to the Chinese communist armies, and used a large part of the remaining $153,000,000 for his own and Gen. Chenault's American armies. Washington hears that the French government also is complaining about lend-lease discrimination.

Two major agencies of the government are planning to convert more than 500 government-owned manufacturing plants into peacetime community manufacturing centers that would be locally owned and financed. The agencies, the Department of Commerce, and the Smaller War Plants Corporation, have completed a survey of the plants in question.

Local Boys Get Chance To Play ORD Athletes

Indian Midgits Beat
Latham Park Team

The Military Police basketball team from ORD proved too much for our local boys in their games last week. The M.P.'s defeated the Proximity team on Thursday night 58 to 34 and ran rough-shod over the White Oak boys on Friday night, 55 to 23. John Mahnken, popular star of the M.P. team scored almost half his team's points on Thursday. He made 25 out of the team's 55 and was not in the entire game.

The lineup at Proximity was as follows: M.P.'s—Phillips f. 4; Hensel f. 6; Mahnken c. 25; Wilson g. 8; Lindsey g. 8; Subs, Stern 2, McConnell, Earle, Eiermann 5. For Proximity—Cole f. 6; Haidcock f. 10; Holt c. 4; Sewell g. 4; Wiley g. Subs, Collins 2, Mann, Basen 6, Russell 2, Steele.

The lineup for the game at White Oak was as follows: M.P.'s—Hensel f. 11; Earle f. 10; Phillips c. 10; Wilson g. 14; Lindsey g. 2; Subs, Stern 2, Eiermann 6. For White Oak—Foust f. 6; Summers f. 2; G. Caviness c. 2; Riley g. 8; Wrenn g. Subs, Q. Caviness 1, Owens, Tiddie, Clay 4, Johnson.

The Indians of the midget football league beat the Latham Park team 37 to 0, Wednesday evening, November 8. The Indians have not lost a game since the start of the league. Quincy Caviness and Joe Wrenn are coaching this fine team of small players.

The varsity teams of the two branches of the Y. has some very interesting basketball games booked for the rest of this month and the first of December. It is great experience for our younger fellows to have the opportunity to play these teams of more experienced players. The attendance was good at the games last week and it seems there is lots of interest in basketball even this early in the season.

1944 Contest Shows Interest In Accident-prevention Work

The 1945 Safety Contests for textile, hosiery and furniture industries will begin on January 1, 1945, according to an announcement by the North Carolina Industrial Commission. This will be the tenth annual affair for the textile industry and the fourth for the other two. Included also in the announcement were winners in the 1944 safety contest.

Textile contest winners were: Group I, East Monbo Mill, East Monbo; Group 2, Robinson Yarn Mills, Dallas; Group 3, Greensboro Weaving Co., Greensboro; Group 4, Ossipee Weaving Co., Burlington; Group 5, Marion Manufacturing Co., Marion; Group 6, Cascade Rayon Mills, Mooresville.

Registration cards will be mailed to all plants in the three above mentioned industries during the month of November. As has been done in past years, the participants in the tenth annual Textile contest will be divided into six groups, according to the average number of employees during the contest period.

The Commission bulletin states that from every angle the 1944 safety contests were the most successful yet conducted. Each showed an increase in interest, each had a larger registration than last year and each had a larger per cent of plants entering to compete.

In the textile contest, 38 mills finished the contest without a lost-time accident. These worked the total of 6,882,458 hours. A total of 395 mills entered this contest, employing 135,616 workers, with 190,412,498 man-hours of exposure. That 95.4 per cent of the mills entering completed all periods of the contest is indicative of the intense interest the textile industry is taking in accident-prevention work. This is also shown in the fact that beginning July 1, 1945, the compensation insurance rate for this industry in North Carolina will be 56c per $100 payroll as compared with 58c at the present and 72c when this contest was started in 1936.

In answer to the questions whether or not these contests are of any value, whether or not they can say so many lives were saved, or that a certain definite sum of money was saved, the Commission bulletin states:

"We do not believe any safety engineer would say that he saved so many lives during a certain period of time, or that he saved so many fingers, so many toes, or so many eyes. However, he could point to the record and say that had the poor previous record continued so many lives would have been lost, or so many fingers, toes or eyes sacrificed. This would be logical, because it would be based on experience of the past compared with experience of the present.

"Safety progress has to be based on the record made year by year. If an improvement is shown, it is very apparent a worthwhile safety program has been carried on. If no improvement is made—perhaps an increase in number of accidents is recorded—evidently the safety program slipped somewhere."

The primary purpose of adding to the treasury is so that these services may be kept up. Members of the Ways and Means committee are taking orders for the brunswick stew, as well as donations.

Those who have made donations are: Miss Fanny Paul Ivey, Mesdames Mack Fulk, J. H. Phillips, James Elkins, Letha Kelly, P. C. Laughlin, W. L. Newman, Charlie Cagle, W. M. Leach, Lowell T. Steele, C. Let's Put It Across

The Sixth War Loan Drive has started. The Textorian feels that it would not be performing its proper service to the nation in the war effort and its readers if it did not emphasize the importance of this drive's being successful.

At the present time only approximately 50% of the employees of the local mills are buying War Bonds. This information is very disappointing. There is no question but that practically every employee of these mills is able to participate in Bond driving to some extent. The fact that such a low percentage of local employees are participating leads us to the conclusion that probably a large number of employees do not properly understand the situation, for we believe if they did, at least ninety per cent of them would be purchasing Bonds straight out or belong to a payroll deduction plan which is available at each of the local mills.

One thing that we all must realize is that this war has to be financed. The government is dependent upon two sources of income for that purpose: one is through taxes, and the other is through money borrowed from the people by the issuing and selling of War Bonds. If that portion of money the government needs and is trying to secure through the sale of War Bonds is not forthcoming, then the government has only one alternative, and that is, to raise the money through increased taxes. When a person buys a War Bond, he is merely investing in the safest security in the world and will receive interest therefrom. When the government taxes a citizen, the citizen is not investing and does not, of course, receive any definite dividends in any form therefrom. It would appear, therefore, that we as individuals should weigh heavily the question as to whether we would prefer to have our taxes increased in order to furnish the necessary war funds or whether we will buy War Bonds in order to make available funds for the prosecution of the war.

It is most important just at this time that the government have all the necessary funds, as lives—many, many lives—are at stake, and if we cannot follow through quickly and efficiently in our drives in both Europe and the Pacific, the war will be unduly prolonged, and that means more good American blood shed than would be necessary.

The funds that we put in War Bonds definitely have a direct relationship upon our successes on the battle fronts and the time the war will come to an end. Let's not overlook that fact.

We again want to call to the attention of our readers the fact that one hundred per cent work attendance by our employees would mean a large sum of money available for the purchase of War Bonds. Furthermore, we would again also like to repeat the fact that cash money available after the war by buying War Bonds now will mean that those articles that the average citizen will want to buy can be bought cheaper than if they have to buy them on time.

Let's all get behind this Sixth War Loan Bond Drive and put it across in a big way.

Christmas Is Coming

Even in war time, Christmas is important. Maybe it is more important because of the things we must do without, because of the loved ones who are far away and in danger, because of the common purposes of all decent Americans—and all decent people.

Christmas is important because it is a time when we are spiritually refreshed. For a short while we forget personal gain and selfish pleasure. For a short time we live to see other people happy. Our gift giving and gift receiving is for the pleasure of others. If most of us could carry that Christmas feeling of cordiality, generosity, and good will towards men, through the other days of the year, what a grand world we would have.

And now another Christmas is coming closer. There are just thirty days for earning and spending till old Santa makes his 1944 rounds. Earn all you can, buy your presents, then give some to those who are less fortunate than you are. And don't forget a War Bond is a present for now and the future, an investment in your own native land, and an outward sign of that inward faith you have in your United States and the men who are fighting for you.

Those Revolution Nappers and First Shift Dyers must be working on their Christmas shopping lists. They have all been on the job every day. Proximity Dyers are showing signs of getting the Christmas Spirit right into their work, and Print Works has two departments one-hundred per cent on the job.

We have a total of six one-hundred per cent departments for this week. If we can have six we could have ten. Let's earn all the Christmas money we should have and spend it wisely.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. Pick-Ups From Cesar Cone School

Leonard has the honor of buying the first bond.

FIFTH GRADE. Miss Simons—Congratulations to John Lee Webster who celebrated his 11th birthday on November 12th and to Joan Varner who was eleven on November 7th. In Miss Simons' 5th grade they are trying to do their part in the War Bond Drive. They have a poster with a big airplane on it. Bernard Ellis made it for them. Any one who buys stamps puts a little airplane on the big plane. Each week he tries to buy a stamp to keep his plane flying. Claude Owen put the first plane on. Shirley Taylor has bought the most stamps.

SIXTH GRADE. Mrs. Gray's—The boys and girls of Mrs. Gray's room have been interested in getting membership for the P.-T. A. They ranked third in the membership drive, having secured three members.

They have recently organized a Stamps and Bond club. Each person is trying to buy war stamps. The students are divided into two teams, the Blues and Reds. The winning side will be entertained by the losers. Elaine Leonard has bought a war bond.

The grade mother's for Mrs. Gray's sixth grade are as follows: Mrs. J. C. Stephens, Mrs. R. L. Owens, Mrs. T. F. Brafford and Mrs. Millard Leonard.

SEVENTH GRADE. Miss Grubbs'—The P.T.A. contest to see which room could get the most P.T.A. members was won by Miss Grubbs' room which had 136 members. The next highest was Miss Hayworth's

No Reconversion Problem in Paint

Since the paint industry will have no reconversion problem and the demand for its products is likely to exceed anything experienced in the past, it should be able to contribute much toward maintaining prosperity through the transition period and beyond, according to speakers at the annual convention-at-home of the National Paint and Lacquer Association.

room, which had 116 members. Total number of members for the school was 936. The pupils in Miss Grubbs' room are going to have a party with the money they won.

SEVENTH GRADE. Miss McKinney's—Clarence Thompson reported that his brother, J. D. Thompson, Petty Officer third class had visited him over the week end. J. D. is stationed at Norfolk, after being stationed in the Bermudas for eighteen or nineteen months. He is the son of Mrs. E. D. Thompson and the late Sheriff Thompson of 1612 17th street.

SEVENTH GRADE. Miss Yates'—The G.Y. club of Miss Yates' room had for its guest speaker, Rev. A. P. Dickson. He talked to them on astronomy. It was very interesting. He said that the earth moved eighteen and a half miles per second around the sun. If it were to drop to seven miles per second, it would gradually fall toward the sun and burn into a grassy vapor. If it were to go over eighteen and one half miles per second the sun couldn't hold the gravity and it would fly into space and freeze to an icicle.

Rev. Dickson spoke only forty minutes. But we wish he could have stayed two or three hours.

This year, as in the past two years, the pupils of Miss Yates' seventh grade, are making Christmas cards for the boys in service, who went to White Oak, Cesar Cone, or Revolution school. Please send us the names and addresses of all the boys and girls in your family who are in the service.

Only eight days were used between the acquiring of a vacated plant and the start of production on a rush military order for radio equipment by General Motors at Terre Haute, Ind. *

News Notes From Proximity School

The second P.-T.A. meeting of the year was held Tuesday night, November 14, with large attendance. We are having one of the best Parent-Teacher associations that we have ever had. Mrs. Fred Marshall, the president is very enthusiastic and many of the other parents are showing a great deal of interest in the work of the association and the school.

We have just closed a month's campaign for members and are delighted to report 423 members. We hope that the drive will continue and that we will have at least 500 members before the end of the year.

Mrs. Rachel Glew's eighth grade gave a play for the Junior high school assembly, Wednesday morning. The elementary pupils had two short moving pictures this week, "America's Favorite" and "Mickey's Tent Show".

The Proximity football team played a good game with the Aycock boys Monday afternoon at the stadium.

Mrs. Henry Canter Hears From Her Wounded Brother

Mrs. Henry Canter, 1500 Upland Drive, received the following letter from her brother, Sgt. Johnnie Brewer, who was wounded in action several weeks ago.

"Dear Sister,

"Just a few lines to let you know I am resting pretty good now as I'm in a hospital somewhere in England.

"You see I got to playing a little rough and got my legs hurt. My trip from the front was by plane and I enjoyed it very much though I didn't like the price of my ticket!

"As you can see one of the nurses is writing this letter for me since I can't sit up with casts on both my legs. Don't worry for I'm getting along just fine.

"Love, from your brother, Johnnie."

Aircraft industry ingenuity has reduced the cost of a B-29 Superfortress to $600,000. The first B-29 to be built cost $3,392,396.60.

Peace Feelers In Toy Department

Tractors are replacing Sherman tanks, and airplanes are "reconverting" to civilian models—at least in the toy departments.

The toy industry, with this year's Christmas stock, will attempt to lead young America and its parents gently away from military subjects.

Although Uncle Sam's priority on metal is still a handicap for Santa Claus, this year's stock will be better if not bigger than a year ago. Wood and plastic products will be of better quality.

The U. S. Infantryman has had several pounds lopped off the burden on his back. Produced by the General Tire and Rubber Co., Akron, O., is a combination raincoat, sleeping bag and tent.
